JOHN C. CROSBIE PASSES

John C. Crosbie, resident of Blairmore for many years, passed away at his home at 6 o'clock this morning, following a long period of failing health.

Mr. Crosbie, before coming to Blairmore, resided for some years at Deaver Mines, where the mines there were being operated.

He is survived by several sons and daughters, one of the latter, Mrs. Smith, being present at the time of his death.

Only yesterday, he was up and around the house, and soon afterwards wrote some letters. The end came as he was in the act of dressing himself for today.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of the Crows' Nest Undertaking Co., and the date of the funeral has not yet been set, though likely will be Sunday afternoon.

His wife predeceased him many years ago, having passed away at Beaver Mines and was buried at Pincher Creek.

MRS. McPHAIL PASSES AWAY IN CALGARY

Mrs. Agnes Roe McPhail, resident of the Calgary district for the past 31 years, died Sunday afternoon at the family residence, 108 Seventh avenue northwest.

The late Mrs. McPhail was born in Pictou, Nova Scotia. Her husband predeceased her 11 years ago.

She is survived by four sons, Alex, and Stanley in Calgary; John, at Blairmore, and Archie at Saskatoon; and by three daughters, Catherine, Annie and Mrs. George Benedict, all of Calgary.

She also leaves four brothers, Donald Cameron, of Lussac, Alberta; Alex, of Fernie, B.C.; or Montreal, N.B.; and James of Cape Breton.

Thirteen grandchildren survive, eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Benedict, and five children of John McPhail, Blairmore.

Rev. James McNeill conducted funeral services Wednesday at 3 p.m. and interment took place in the family plot in the Union cemetery. A. M. Shaver was in charge of arrangements.

John McPhail left Blairmore by Tuesday night's train to attend the funeral.

JOSEPH SALVA PASSES AT HILLCREST

Sudden death claimed Joseph Salva, aged 72, one of Hillcrest's oldest residents, on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the Hillcrest Collieries' tipple.

Mr. Salva had just been completing his shift, occupied as an employee on the rock-picking table at the tipple, when he suddenly collapsed at his post, death following almost immediately.

Dr. G. B. Rose was summoned immediately but on his arrival life was already extinct. It is thought death was due to heart failure.

His death came as a shock to the entire community as he appeared to be in apparently good health. He is survived by his wife and four stepchildren, three of whom reside in Hillcrest, Mrs. W. Makin, Mrs. J. Semanick and Johnny.

The remains were laid to rest in Hillcrest cemetery on Saturday, the Crows' Nest Undertaking Co. being in charge of arrangements.

That he could pick out in the school room boys who had been or were Scouts was the declaration of Principal J. L. Foster, of the Sandwich, Ont., high school, before a gathering of Border City Scouts. "In one of my third form classes," said the principal, "I was so impressed with the scholastic ability of the boys that I asked those who were Scouts to stand. All but two arose."

CORBIN MINES ON STRIKE

Two hundred men came out on strike at Corbin last week end, brought about through the discharge of a miner. According to a statement obtained Tuesday at the mine office, the men were called out after a standing vote had been taken. The statement pointed out that matters of being referred to arbitration. More this kind, under the agreement, must be held, before a strike could be properly called it must be submitted to a ballot. "The union did neither but called the men out at once and at the present the situation is deadlocked," the press was told by a mine official. Mine Manager Warburton is confined to his home ill and has been for some time.

The agreement at Corbin is with the Corbin Miners' Association, which is affiliated with the Mine Workers Union of Canada. The Canadian union is not recognized by the management.

ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING AT UNITED CHURCH

Immediately following a brief service of worship on Sunday evening next, the annual meeting of the congregation will be held. Reports will be received from all groups and organizations and an election of the personnel of the committee of stewards will take place.

All organizations are requested to have their reports ready. A copy to be handed to the minister, to enable him to make complete returns, which must be sent in by him not later than February 1st.

PYTHIAN SISTERS INSTALL

The installation of officers of Greenhill Temple of Pythian Sisters took place in the lodge hall on Friday night last. Owing to the very severe weather, the attendance was small. Officers installed were: Mary Zak, most excellent chief; Grace Penman, excellent senior; Lillian Montalbet, excellent junior; Mary Senier, manager; Elizabeth Moores, M. of R. & C.; Margaret Vejprava, M. of F.; Anne Penman, protector; Isabella Wolstenholme, guard; Anne Cousens, past chief.

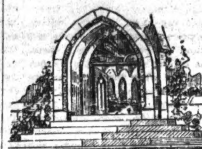

COLEMAN WOMAN CALLED BY DEATH

The death occurred at Coleman hospital on Sunday morning of Mrs. Isabella Black Ayton Chalmers, at the age of 64 years and six months. She had been a resident of Coleman for twenty-three years. Her husband predeceased her fifteen years ago. Several sons and daughters mourn her death. Mrs. Frank Wheatley, junior, of Banff, is a daughter.

The remains will be laid to rest in the Coleman cemetery tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Chalmers was a native of Bonnyrigg, Midlothian, Scotland. About a year ago an intruder made its appearance into the office of the Coleman Journal, and after a study of the machine for several months it was decided to call it a cat—really the "printer's devil." A similar experience became the lot of The Enterprise during the past few days, but circumstances are slightly different.

The Coleman cat, native of a thoroughly white community, needed no introduction or education along natural lines. The Blairmore tabby has without doubt suffered from the influence of the Red element. It has a soap-box squeak, to begin with, sounding much like Murphy; it has red eyes, result of various unusual and unnecessary demands, which in turn brought about ill health, both in body and mind. Unlike the usual soap-box orator, however, it shows some signs of intelligence.

Total forest fires damage in British Columbia during 1934 was $993,481, highest on record with the exception of 1925. Hon. A. Wells Gray, minister of lands, reported. The damage was three times greater than the previous year, and the area burned over, 649,619 acres, was more than double that of 1933.

Trying Out Welded Rails

Experiment Being Made In Germany

By State Railway
Welded rails are being used in tests being made by the German State Railway to determine whether they can be used at high rates of speed and whether they cause any bad effects to the trains. A trial rail-road line has been constructed of welded rails, each approximately 98 feet long and so connected that there are practically no joints. An express train, without passengers, will be driven over this line until a mileage of about 62,500 is attained. These tests are to last about three months with 10 trips being made each day at a speed of from 75 to 95 miles an hour.

Baked beans, codfish and potatoes, a typical New England meal, were cooked at Portland, Maine, and still hot, served for supper in Portland, Oregon, the same night. It was the start of the new air express transportation service between northern New England and the Pacific coast.

Have To Slow Down

Largest Liners Forced To Slacken Speed In Heavy Sea

Even the largest ocean liners have to slow down when they are sailing into a heavy sea in a gale. Although the huge steamers take the waves well and dig right into the rollers, the skippers know their vessels will not stand the strain at full speed. That is why so many ships are a day or more late when they have to face a storm on the ocean. Naturally the companies do not want their boats broken up and the orders are to ease up on the speed when it is necessary.

On one occasion a year or so ago one of the large liners turned about in mid-ocean to speed to the rescue of a vessel in distress. But even under those circumstances the captain could not let his steamer go at full speed.

Had he done so, he too might soon have been in as great distress as the ship that had called for help.—W. L. Clark, in Border Cities Star.

To Raise Qualifications

Increase In Drug Apprenticeship Requirements May Come In Saskatchewan

Substantial increases in drug apprenticeship requirements in Saskatchewan may result from amendments to apprentice by-laws suggested at the semi-annual council meeting of the Saskatchewan Pharmaceutical Association in Regina.

The amendment discussed will be brought before the association at the annual convention in Moose Jaw, July 10 and 11. It calls for an increase in apprentice educational qualifications from Grade XI to Grade XII diploma.

Also proposed is a qualification of 24 months apprenticeship before a pharmaceutical applicant be accepted for university training. After the first term of university work the apprentice would be required to serve another 12 months before completing his course.

FASHION FANCIES

DESIGNED ESPECIALLY FOR MATURE FIGURE TO DISGUISE OVERWEIGHT AND IT DOES IT BEAUTIFULLY

By Ellen Worth

This charming dress of black satin back crepe expresses simple dignity for the mature figure. The vestee is white starched lace. The revers color is outlined by shiny surface of the crepe, which makes a very effective trim. There is slight fulness toward the hem of the lengthening paneled skirt, which gives nice freedom for walking. You'll be astonished how quickly you can make this dress—and for a very nominal sum.

Febby crepe silk, lightweight woollens, velvet, etc., are equally lovely to carry it out. Style No. 993 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48-inches bust. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards of 18-inch or wider contrasting. Patterns 20c each. Address mail orders to: Pattern Department, Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 370 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Enclose 20c extra if you wish a copy of our Fall and Winter Fashion Magazine. Pattern and magazine are mailed post paid. "How to Make Better Dresses" booklet, a helpful guide to sewing, is obtainable for 20c. Whether you are a beginner or a skilled dressmaker, the needle, we think it would pay you to obtain a copy.

Weird Happenings

Strange Phenomena Attracts Attention At Home Of Ontario Farmer

Weird and unearthly happenings at the home of Joseph Quinn, farmer, residing in North Burgess township, about 14 miles from Perth, Ont., have aroused the countryside for miles around. Stones flying through the windows, thrown apparently by no human hand; trons used for pressing clothes walking downstairs of their own volition; a teapot which jumped off the stove into the wood-box; pictures tumbling from the walls without cause, and other mysterious happenings, have focused the attention of the neighborhood.

So serious has the matter become that Ontario provincial police visited the home to investigate. Many persons in the neighborhood vouched for the truth of the happenings.

Tests Were Successful

Novel Diving Suit Easily Handled

And Quicker Put On
Tests of a novel diving suit for saving drowning persons, just completed in the lake at Geneva, Switzerland, are reported to have been successful. The suit was invented by Commander Prieur of the French Navy. The essential point about it is that the diver wears a breastplate which is really a steel bottle of compressed air. The whole suit is easily handled and can be put on in 30 seconds. The diver can remain below the surface for about 25 minutes. He is quite free of the ropes or air tubes which usually connected divers with a boat overhead. At the public demonstration three men remained under water for a long period.

Little Journeys In Science

THE ELECTRON
(By Gordon H. Quest, M.A.)

Electricity is one of man's most useful servants and has added much to our bodily comfort. Some years ago scientists began to wonder as to the nature of electricity. It is only within the last three years that the electron theory has been developed. In 1891, a scientist, G. Johnstone Stoney, suggested the name electron for the natural unit of electricity. The modern scientist believes that negative electricity consists of electrons and it has been shown that it takes 1845 electrons to weigh as much as one hydrogen atom. It is usually considered by scientists that matter is granular and electrical in nature. There is very convincing evidence to prove that the hydrogen atom is made up of one positive electron called a proton and one negative electron, which is usually called the electron.

What is called an electric current is now believed to be simply a flow of electrons through a wire, and it is considered that good conductors of electricity such as gold, silver and copper, have a good many electrons loosely held. In the case of non-conductors, it seems that there are few free electrons.

When a glass rod is rubbed with silk, the negative charge taken on by the silk is due to the fact that some free electrons are rubbed off the glass; while the glass, having lost electrons, takes on a positive charge. When a metal body takes on a positive charge when it loses electrons, and a negative charge when it gains electrons. Lightning can also be explained by means of the electron theory. Electrons, or charged molecules of air, serve as nuclei around which molecules of the air may condense. In time the droplets grow in size until they fall as rain-drops, and it appears that they carry down large numbers of stray electrons, the final stage being a very great electrical discharge, followed by the passage of a "bolt" between the cloud and the earth.

"Cheap Flying For Masses"

Aviation Club In England Has Over 400 Members

With the slogan, "Cheap Flying For The Masses," the Northamptonshire Aviation Club reported at the opening of its clubhouse recently at Sywell, England, that its plan is a success. It has more than 400 members, the majority being amateur pilots and artisans. The subscription is $425 a year and the club finances instructions to the extent of $5 an hour, providing the student gets his flying license within eight hours. The club is expected to become the largest civil aviation organization in the country.

BUSINESS ON THE UPTURN

A definite indication that conditions are improving and that business is on the upturn is shown by the fact that the Salada Tea Company sold over 84% more tea in Western Canada in 1934 than in 1933. This is especially significant since Salada is a quality tea.

Chicks are hatched artificially in Egypt by a method 4,000 years old.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JANUARY 27

PETER'S DENIAL

Golden text: "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." I. Corinthians 10:12.

Lesson: Mark 14:12-27.

Devotional reading: Psalm 51:1-9.

Explanations and Comments

Peter's Over-confidence In His Loyalty to His Lord, verses 27-31. Jesus said to the disciples, "You will all be discomfited [Moffatt's translation] for it is written [a free adaptation of the prophet, (2) I will smite the shepherd and the sheep shall be scattered abroad." The quotation is intended to alleviate the scandal of the disciples' conduct, by showing that it was foretold (Dummelow). The Shepherd was smitten, and the sheep were scattered—all the disciples fled. Peter and John (Jn. 18:15) followed after.

Confidently and boastfully Peter exclaimed, "Although all shall be offended, yet will not I." Peter claimed the ancient virtue of Eubulism: "(1) in contradicting the prophet and the Christ; (2) in placing himself above the rest; (3) in trusting in himself alone, and not in the help of God."

"Verily I say unto thee, that thou, to-day, even this night," solemnly affirmed the high priest, "the cock crow twice, shall deny me thrice."

Peter's Denial of His Lord, verses 61-64, 66-72. After the agony in Gethsemane, the betrayal and arrest of Jesus (verses 32-50), Peter followed him at a distance to the palace of the high priest. Peter was warming himself by the fire which glowed in an open charcoal brazier. Nicodemus, the Jew who came to Jesus in the night, and the fire must have been welcome.

One of the maids of the high priest approached him and said, "Thou also wast with the Nazarene, even Jesus."

"I neither know nor understand what thou sayest," Peter said, utterly bewildered by the happenings of the night.

Peter went out into the porch and the cock crew. "Turning to the men who were standing there, he said, 'This is one of them,' and he denied it. A little later, after Peter had been talking to him and he was telling them that he came from Galilee (Mt. 26:37) his companions declared, 'Of a truth thou art one of them; for thou art a Galilean.'"

Then Peter began to curse and to swear. He invoked a curse upon himself if what he was telling were not true when he said, "I know not this Man of whom ye speak."

An Outstanding Tragedy

World's Greatest Collapse Of The Bridge In 1870

There have been a few outstanding tragedies in the world's history which have photographed themselves on our minds so that neither time nor circumstances seem able to obliterate them. The Lisbon earthquake, the last day of Pompeii, the loss of the Titanic, these are instances of them. What happened this night in 1870 is yet another.

It is one of those stories which are quickly told yet leave much to the imagination. The necessary facts to bring it to the mind, to conjure up the horror of it, are few indeed. We need only to know that in 1870 the first great bridge over the River Tay, in Scotland, was built. It was nearly two miles long, had 84 spans, and was 90 feet high. One of the wonders of the world at that time, it was destined to stand but a few months.

As this night in 1870 the sun went down in a wreck of scattered clouds, the wind was a high wind which increased in velocity till it blew with tremendous force, sweeping up the river at incredible speed.

In the blackness of that terrible night a train with its human freight rushed across the bridge, but never reached the other end. In an instant 13 of the great spans were lifted bodily, swayed a moment over the black waters of the river, and then crashed with the train and all who were in it.

Out of time into eternity they went. The world shuddered. So, at that great price, was bought the knowledge whereby a stronger bridge was built.—Ottawa Journal, Dec. 28.

Will Use Autogyros

British Admiralty Adding Them To Naval Aviation Units

The British admiralty has decided to add autogyros to its naval aviation units, the Daily Telegraph reported.

Commenting on the reported decision, the newspaper's naval expert, Hector Bywater, declared: "Under the present circumstances airplane carriers are indispensable. The admiralty, however, would welcome a perfected autogyro or airplane able to land in a small area, rendering unnecessary large airplane carriers, which are burdensome and vulnerable.

The best way to take the cooler weather when it comes is by degrees.

SHE PLAYS ORGAN AT 75 YEARS

Takes Kruschen To Keep Rheumatism Away

Writing to tell how she keeps her activity, this wonderful old woman states:—

"My hands were becoming so crippled that I had to give up piano and organ playing—and almost entirely give up knitting. I have been using Kruschen Salts for nearly two years, and am very pleased with the results. Last August, I played two church services on the organ, and hope to do so again this August. My fingers are nearly straight, and quite supple, and I am 75. I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many people."—A. A. C.

The six-potassium salts of Kruschen have a direct effect upon the whole bloodstream, neutralizing uric acid, which is the cause of rheumatism. They also restore the eliminating organs to proper working order, and prevent constipation, thereby checking the further formation of uric acid and other body poisons which undermine the health.

YOUR HANDWRITING REVEALS YOUR CHARACTER!
By LAWRENCE HUBBERT (Grapho-Analyst)
(All Rights Reserved)

(Editor's Note: Have you had your handwriting analyzed by this well-known grapho-analyst, John Hubbert, of those who have done so, and learn what your writing tells about you.)

Another batch of extracts from reprints, made for the purpose of showing the scope of the interest aroused by this series of articles. Letters are coming in from coast to coast, and are practically every case, a graphological analysis is able to reveal the help that is needed.

Miss Nelson: The outstanding characteristic in your nature is your procrastination. You put off doing things that demand immediate attention. This is one of the worst of the minor traits of character, and I strongly advise you to make more promptitude and decisiveness.

Miss J.: Toronto: Have nothing to do with your married man friend. He is not quite the person he pretends to be. I imagine that if you were to have a talk to his wife you would find that he has chronically neglected her, and that he has always had a passion for other women. It is not surprising that you are a case when you will be sorry you ever met him. His handwriting is strongly androgynous.

Mr. Winnipeg: By all means take up a course in advertising make-up. You certainly need a course in this kind of thing, and you will not go far wrong in working hard at it. This is one of the worst of the minor traits of character that a young man can embrace.

Mrs. S.: Sarnia: The only thing to do with your husband is to show him that he is not the person he pretends to be. He is a school-child. He, like many other fathers, forgets that he was once a young himself, and that it is too much to expect that young people will see eye to eye with maturity. His writing indicates that he is somewhat domineering, and that he likes to "rule." But he must understand that he cannot rule the lives of his children for ever. And, judging by your daughter's handwriting, she is well able to look after herself.

Mrs. Woorful: The trouble with you is that you are giving in to your passions. You are not cultivating outside interests, providing as much variety for yourself as is possible. To your husband, and not only that, but to imagine worries that are non-existent. It is merely by your own fault, and, after all, it is no excuse. Take hold of yourself and shake off those nervous convulsions that are gradually controlling your mind. I have written you, suggesting a regimen for you to follow.

Miss E.: You are at an age when you are inclined to exaggerate these lovers' tiffs. At 19 it is hard to feel complacent when things go wrong in one's love affairs, but time will show that you had nothing to fear, because you were sincere when he told you that he loved you, and before long things will turn out alright again. In any case, you are rather young to feel that your life is blighted, whatever the outcome.

Have you any problems that are worrying you? Do you want to know what your handwriting reveals? You may be surprised at the revelations. And an analysis often tells you things about your friends that you did not know. Send specimens of the writing you want analyzed, stating birthdate in each case. Send 10c coin for your specimen, and enclose with 3c stamped addressed envelope. To: Lawrence Hubbert, Grapho-Analyst, Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg, Man. All letters are strictly confidential. Specimens will be mailed as quickly as possible, but please allow at least two weeks for a reply.

Parent, concluding the recital of his exploits—"And that, my boy, is what I did in the Great War." Son—"But, Daddy, why did they want so many men beside you?"

W. J. BARTLETT, PUBLISHER

Blairmore, Alta., Thur., Jan. 24, 1935

The correct move in Social Credit circles is to evolve a definite plan. If Aberhart feels confident that an isolated plan for Alberta will work, let him draft his plan at once and present it to the people. If the U.F.A. is going to bring Major Douglas here to work out a plan, it should be done without delay. Promoting Social Credit is something like making love to a practical girl. Nice words go a long way, but a little jewelry, a ring, a box of candy and some flowers, a few party parties and so on, help to clinch the argument. Personally, we feel that an isolated province under Social Credit would give rise to just such a mess that the mass trying probe has uncovered. If the dividend tax raised the price on Alberta canned goods, as an instance, Alberta people would send to Saskatchewan where they could buy them cheaper. We're pretty frail when things touch our pocketbooks. On the other hand, we can see the sense of going ahead federally and organizing, health insurance, pension plans, social hospitalization and all such things, which are in truth Social Credit, when the Douglas plan when applied as a whole would eliminate the overlapping of services and bring them all under one head. Well, anyway, Aberhart should not feel so badly even if Douglas does come over here and steals his "thunder," for hasn't Bennett practically stolen the Progressive Group's policy, hook, sinker and line?—Clareholm Local Press.

Blairmore staged a right royal game of hockey at Lethbridge on Monday night, and in spite of many obstacles emerged losers but one goal against what was supposed to be a much better team. The boys went to the city on the afternoon train, and elected to return by a coach attached to a freight train, which left Lethbridge about 2 a.m. and reached Blairmore at 11:20. They thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

Bright Stories
about Wine

THE NAVAL STRENGTH OF ENGLAND

Not many people, we suppose, are aware that the wine trade was one of the main reasons for the rise of the British Navy, though the connection between the Navy and alcoholic beverages was more than hinted at the other day when the King on the occasion of his son's marriage ordered an extra tot of rum for the fleet. But it happened that, because of the temporary fact that for three centuries the King of England was also the liege of some rich French provinces, even then renowned for their wine, a great many Gascons settled in London, and became prominent and even predominant in the wine trade. This expatriated the London merchants, and they were able to have laws passed seriously embarrassing these Gascons. The French trade, therefore, flowed to other English ports.

In 1355, Edward III forbade the export of all coin, thus setting an example which we have seen followed in our day, and so the Bordeaux merchants were obliged to accept, in payment for their wine, goods which they did not understand, which they did not want or which they did not know how to buy profitably. In consequence of this they practically abandoned England as a customer, and sent their wines elsewhere.

It followed, therefore, that it became necessary for the King and all others who desired wine to send to Bordeaux. This change, says the Encyclopedia Britannica, was mainly responsible for the rapid increase of the naval strength and maritime preponderance of England. Until that time, Gascons, Genoese, Flemings and Germans had shared among them almost the whole of the carrying trade by sea.

AND THEN IT RAINED

The Estevan Mercury launches into a forecast for 1935. Some of these predictions have particular significance for Saskatchewan, and a few of the jocular thoughts are given below: Feb. 26—Estevan banks inaugurate regular weekly "Friendly Day" on which all business men allowed to write all the cheques they want without any fear of the consequences.

April 5—Mysterious phenomenon of water falling from the sky. Ten families leave the district, fearing evil spirits.

May 14—Mysterious phenomenon of water falling from the sky. Ten families leave the district fearing evil spirits, to be unduly alarmed, as something along this line occurred in the spring of '67 without any evil effects.

May 29—Worried over conditions, all the grasshoppers in the district commit suicide.

June 13—Mysterious phenomenon of water falling from the sky again repeated, and housewives begin to complain about it being a nuisance and upsetting their routine, as they don't have any dusting to do for several hours afterwards.

June 14—Several ladies seen taking pails of dust into their houses to sprinkle around and make things nice and homelike the next time water phenomenon occurs.

July 1—First of July celebration cancelled when Waldon Matte rushes into town with word that grass is growing on his farm. Convinced that the district is ruined, 67 families immediately pack up and leave, for the Sahara Desert when they can live in peace and comfort.

July 6—Water still falling. Town completely submerged except roofs of high buildings, where citizens are huddled with their wives and families. Man who had small supply of dust hidden in his sock is attacked and beaten for being a miser.

The Blairmore Hardware Company are now located in their new premises in the McLaren building, next door west of Safeways. They opened to the trade there on Saturday morning and many favorable comments have since been made on the splendid appearance of the new store. The location is an excellent one.

He (as they drove along a lonely road):
"You look lovelier to me every minute. Do you know what that's a sign of?"

She: "Sure. You're about to run out of gas."

"Let me kiss those tears away, sweetheart," he begged tenderly.

She fell into his arms and he was very busy for a few moments. But the tears flowed on.

"Will nothing stop them?" he asked breathlessly.

"No," she murmured. "It's hay fever, but go on with the treatment."

A LITTLE STRAIGHT TALK

You tillers of the soil have a right to think for yourselves, and we hope you are doing it; but we have been forced to question the fact within the past few weeks. If you really believed in the theory of Social Credit, it is your privilege and duty to go in to your U.F.A. organization and establish leadership there that will meet your demands. But, if you lose the power you have now gained, you are sunk for another decade. Just think this over.—Clareholm Local Press.

Charlie Sartoria has a new up-to-date camera. He tried to secure some pictures of the immense snow piles around Blairmore yesterday, but in order to work to advantage he had to be hoisted by block and tackle to the top of the highest pile in Blairmore to see over the drifts.

A bride and her groom arrived at the big hotel on their honeymoon. The room they occupied was beautifully furnished with a pair of twin beds. Upon seeing them the bride began to cry and the groom said: "Why dear, what is the matter?" "Bride (sobbing) 'I thought we were going to have a room all by ourselves."

"If Shakespeare were here today, he would be looked upon as a remarkable man."

"Yes, he'd be more than 300 years old."

"Are we backing Mr. Bennett's plan? That's the question people ask us. I don't believe he has a plan to begin with. He has left untouched the basic problems facing us today. I say to you, the main issue is not party reforms, as suggested by Mr. Bennett, but whether we are to go along with the capitalist system, or replace it with socialism. That's the clearest issue today."—J. S. Woodworth, to an audience of 12,000 at Toronto.

At the annual meeting of the Crown's Nest Curling Association, held at Cranbrook on Tuesday night, R. O. Allison, of Pincher Creek, was elected president; James Wilson, Fernie, vice-president; S. Pincher Creek was selected as the place for the 1936 bonspiel.

The pan-handler protested that he had never drank a drop of liquor in his life, and the lawyer said: "In that case you ought to sue your nose for libel."

The Guild Wife: "Angus, have you seen ma thimble?"

Angus: "Aye, ye'll find it by the whukey decanter. Ye see, I gave McWhustor a nicht cap last night."

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE BALL

For the next few months the emotions, the fears, the hopes, the ideas of business men are likely to be kept in a state of turmoil by conflicting reports, rumors and speeches emanating from Victoria and Ottawa. We are not condemning them, for they are all a vital part of our present picture, but we do say that unless the average business man and workman keeps his eye on the ball and quits worrying about every conflicting report he hears, he is in for a tough and nerve-racking time. Bear in mind that the Victoria and Ottawa administrations are anxious for recovery of business. Their great and central purpose is to speed recovery. They are encouraging industry to sit up and take part. But even the administration is a complex proposition. There are many minds within even the highest circles. Many of these minds are individualistic and do not compromise easily. It is an era of compromise we are entering. There will be resistance to compromise by those with pet theories. They'll make speeches. They'll flood the country with the papers with "statements." Some of these speeches will be disturbing, some will be purely political, some will have merit, some will have none. There will be confusion, and the average business man, with his desk piled high with problems of his own, may find himself in a maelstrom of emotions, fears and hopes, shifting as the tides of oratory ebb and flow. For your own peace of mind, keep calm, keep in mind that when all the shouting is over there will be compromise and progress. Business is definitely on the up-grade. Keep your eye on the ball, relax, and you will make longer shots in 1935 than you dared try in 1934.—Cranbrook Courier.

THE SMELTING INDUSTRY

A short time ago we commented on the number of smelters that had been erected within a radius of a couple of hundred miles of Cranbrook and with only one, the Trail plant, now in operation. These included the one built at Pilot Bay, the Hall Mines smelter at Nelson, and the ones at Frank Marysville, Grand Forks, Greenwood, Northport, Spokane and Sandpoint. Somehow we had completely overlooked the second smelter erected at Nelson, which was built as a sort of experimental plant for the treatment of zinc ores. This also was a project of A. C. Fernau, who built the plant at Frank. Now we read that this plant near Lakeside park at Nelson is being torn down to make room for a modern machine shop for the public works department. Its towering stack, 110 feet high, has long been a landmark. The Trail smelter, the only one now in operation out of the eleven named, has been worth more many times over than all of the others put together. The old Hall Mines smelter at Nelson and those at Grand Forks, Greenwood and Northport served their purpose well in their time, but the others have been little better than failures.—F.J.S. in Cranbrook Courier.

Worse and Worse

"The great men are all dead," she said, with evident regret. "But the beautiful women are not," he replied, looking earnestly at her. "Of course," she added, after a moment's reflection, "I always except present company."

"So do I," he replied.

That's O.K.

A woman driver ran into another vehicle and bent a mudguard. It worried her. So she went to a garage and asked the mechanic:

"Can you repair this mudguard so that my husband won't know it has been bent?"

The mechanic looked at the bent mudguard and then at the woman and replied:

"No, madam. I can't. But I can fix it up so that in a few days you can ask your husband how he bent it."

MUST HAVE ETHICAL TRAINING FOR OUR YOUTHS, SAYS H. H. STEVENS

Ottawa.—The serious importance to Canada of assuring high ethical standards in the training of our future citizens was referred to by the Hon. H. H. Stevens in an interview with reference to announced plans for the expansion of the Boy Scout movement.

That Canadian youth never before has played so important a role in shaping the Dominion's destinies, and at the same time never have presented so difficult a social and economic problem, was the declaration of the former Minister of Trade and Commerce and first chairman of the Price Bureau Commission.

Said Mr. Stevens: "Never in the history of this country has youth been more prominent in its effect upon the future of the country."

"On the one hand trained and informed young men and women are taking a larger part in the major activities of the country."

"On the other hand one is forced to admit that the most serious social and economic problem we have today is how we are to care for, in useful occupation, the thousands of youths that are leaving our educational institutions year by year."

"The Boy Scout movement has been one of the greatest factors in the development of character in youth; and character, after all, is the most essential element in the upbuilding of a true citizen."

"No greater contribution could at this time be made to the country's welfare than just such contribution as is being made day by day by the Boy Scout movement."

A well-known London bank manager, deservedly popular as a raconteur, considers the following as one of the best in his repertoire:

Two lunatics were airing their grievances in the asylum grounds.

Said one: "It's an outrage. I've been in here ten years, and I'm as sane as anybody."

"So am I," chimed in the other, "and I've been here for 12 years. Let's go, and tell the governor."

"Wait a minute," said the first, "I'm going to test you first."

Then, putting his hands behind his back, he said, "What have I got in my hand?"

"A tramcar," promptly answered the second.

"You cheat," was the heated retort. "You saw me pick it up!"

Helen: "What are you knitting?"

Alice: "Something to cheer up the boys."

Helen: "Why, the war was over long ago."

Alice: "This is my bathing suit."

FISH STORY EXPERTS TO BE LICENSED

Montreal, Que.—There is a "fisherman's license" which extends beyond the mere legal permission to catch fish and includes the right to talk about fish, caught and uncaptured, afterwards without being compelled to adhere too strictly to exact measurements and weights, stated Alan N. Longstaff, of the public's department, Canadian National Railways, in addressing the members of the Electrical Club of Montreal recently. Without this "fisherman's license," half the fun of fishing would be gone, the speaker continued. Some of the most successful fishing trips, in the matter of the number and size of fish caught, prove to be the most enjoyable since the angler can exult or mourn over what might have been, thereby building up his hopes for future outings and whetting his appetite for the moment when he can again leave office cars behind him to get out into the great outdoors, where men are men and fish are bigger when you fail to land them.

In addition to inviting tourists from Canada and other countries to enjoy their vacations in the Dominion, Canada is "rolling back the sportsman's map" and providing new areas for the delight of the hunter, fisherman and nature lover. Mr. Longstaff stated. The setting aside of such areas as Jasper National Park in the Canadian Rockies as game sanctuaries and breeding grounds has resulted in better hunting in the areas adjacent to the park boundaries, where, experienced guides claim, Rocky Mountain sheep and goats, moose, caribou, bears and other big game trophies are more numerous than for decades.

Similarly in regard to fishing, new game fish waters are being discovered and made accessible to the tourist. In Jasper National Park, speckled trout and rainbow trout fishing of excellence had been provided in lakes which but a few years ago were barren of fish life. In the Nipigon area, famous for its huge speckled trout and where the largest trout on record was taken some years ago, lakes had been discovered which were full of small-mouth black bass.

Canada is engaged in a serious campaign to increase her tourist traffic, which is a tremendous revenue-producer for the Dominion, said Mr. Longstaff, but she is not stopping at issuing the invitation. Through the Canadian and Provincial travel bureau, the Tourist Bureau of the Canadian National Railways and other organizations, every attempt is being made to provide the visitor with just the sort of outing he desires, even though that involves discovery and development of new areas which will keep the Dominion in her place as "The Sportsman's Paradise."

DO YOU REMEMBER

When times were so hard in Alberta that when you asked a Scotswoman to buy you a drink, he bought two?

When Charlie expressed as much work out of a four-legged horse as the average person would expect from a five-legged one?

When women looked like armored cars, with their cheeks and chins protected from the male sex by fibre web, which was in many cases charged with electricity? Kissing in those days was not permissible until twenty years or more after marriage.

When editors were such poor people that the Salvation Army felt it a christian duty to canvass from door to door soliciting for their assistance?

When voters in small communities had brains of their own and could vote as they pleased, without being influenced by a mob of fanatics?

When a ten-inch fish was a ten-inch fish, and seldom weighed more than ten ounces?

In any event, it has been impressed upon us that the U.F.A. is a wing of that confederation of lesser political parties known corporately as the C.C.F. and the leader of the C.C.F. is J. S. Woodsworth, who, speaking at a Calgary public meeting last year said: "If you want to know whether I'm in favor of handing $15 or $20—or even $25—to every man and woman over the age of twenty-one years, and expect by that means to solve our social problems, I am not such a fool as that!"

Notices are posted, calling for the annual meeting of the ratapayers of the Town of Blairmore and Blairmore School District 628, to be held tomorrow (Friday) night. The meeting promises to be interesting, as reports will show what has been accomplished under the two-year administration of labor civic and school government. The mayor's two-year term expires this month. No announcement has been made yet of slates of candidates for mayor, councillors and trustees for the forthcoming contests in February.

Not every father is able to leave his son a big estate made up of lands, mortgages and bonds, but any father can bequeath to his children an estate worth indefinitely more—one for which they will rise up to call him name blessed. He can leave an honorable name, a good reputation, the memory of a godly life and a record of fair dealing. He can teach his son to have a profound respect for a fact, a deep reverence for character, a thirst for knowledge and a willingness to work. If any youth has all this he will not need any money that may be willed to him; if he does not have this no money left him will do him much good.—Cranbrook Courier.

PUTTING THE WORLD TOGETHER AGAIN

A new book recently issued under the title "Courage For To-day" begins with a little story that has a lot of meaning in it. A man gave his small son a very elaborate jigsaw puzzle. It had been made by tearing a map of the world into little pieces. In a short time the child reported that the picture of the world was put together. "How could you have done it so fast?" asked the father in amazement. "Oh, it was easy," answered the child. "You see, there was a picture of a man on the other side. When I put him together, the world was put together, too."

Men, and parties, and governments are all trying to put this old world together again. The number of plans and theories and policies advocated as the only way in which this gigantic task can be accomplished are beyond computation or classification. Speeches teem with suggestions of all kinds, newspaper and magazine articles flow in an uninterrupted stream from the printing presses, books are piled upon books, all presenting the speaker's or writer's idea of the particular thing that must be done. To-day's brilliant suggestion is completely destroyed by to-morrow's contribution until practically all of us are in a fog.

Men of prominence, leaders of their fellow men, change their views overnight and to-day are found denouncing that which they vigorously upheld and championed yesterday, while nations almost in the twinkling of an eye abandon policies and forms of government which for scores of years, even centuries, have been accepted as traditionally sound and wise. One group declares that mankind must retrace its steps backward to the tribal communal state and so they declare for Communism. Another group says man must be deprived of those personal liberties won by him through centuries of struggle and must be regimented, controlled and ordered like private in an army and be made to surrender all hope or right to profit above a standard form of living which may result from his individual initiative and efforts, and this group declares for State Socialism. A third group holds these other groups to be all wrong and adheres to the view that man is incapable of self-government, that democracy is an abject failure, and that only a selected few are wise enough, strong enough, capable enough to govern and that they should take control into their hands and rule by force if by force it will be necessary, and impose their will and ideas upon all others. They declare for Fascism and dictatorship.

Each and all of these groups fail to recognize and learn the simple lesson which the small boy with his jigsaw puzzle so quickly demonstrated, namely, that if man himself is made right the world itself will be righted. Business in the hands of dishonest men will be dishonest business, and there must be transfer from private to government control, whether Democratic, Communist, Socialist or Fascist, will not make business honest. There has been as much, if not more, graft and corruption, and just as many mistakes made in the hands of government control, whether Democratic, Communist, Socialist or Fascist, will not make business honest. There has been as much, if not more, graft and corruption, and just as many mistakes made in the hands of government control, whether Democratic, Communist, Socialist or Fascist, will not make business honest.

And who is responsible? Many an honest business man has been forced to adopt unethical, even dishonest practices, because his customers have demanded it of him. The same is true of high principled men entrusted with the duties and responsibilities of government. A government adopts a policy in the general public interest, it imposes a tax for the necessary purposes of government, and the average man and woman cudge their brains to devise ways and means of evading the tax and escaping their responsibilities. One person smuggles to escape paying Customs duties, another swears to a false affidavit to avoid paying a gasoline tax, still another "doctors" an income tax return, and so it goes.

Completely changing the system will not effect a cure; it is man himself who must change. It is the human factor that is wrong, and until it is made right there will continue to be dishonesty and wrongs no matter what the system may be, and the larger the degree of power placed in the hands of a few the greater the wrongs will be because the greater the power the greater the opportunity for evil, and because the possession of power always leads to the grasping for more power regardless of the methods whereby it may be obtained.

Governments are created to govern a country; not to usurp the rights and destroy the liberties of the people. People elect governments and direct their governments; not the government control and direct the people. It is the duty and responsibility of governments to check and control the dishonest and eliminate wrongs and abuses imposed by individuals or groups of individuals upon others. That is the function of governments acting in the interests of all, but it is not a proper government function to interfere with or usurp the rights of individuals in the proper ordering of their own lives and in the carrying on of their legitimate occupation.

The inalienable rights of man are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Life is more than money and business; liberty is much more than a regimented mode of existence and a stated standard of living; the pursuit of happiness must be left to the individual otherwise he cannot be happy. God conferred on man a mind and will of his own, and man must work out his own salvation, and aided by such institutions as he may himself devise and set up to assist him, through education and otherwise, rise to higher things and nobler conceptions.

Politicians, financiers, economists, social workers—all must come to a realization and acceptance of the fact demonstrated by the small boy's jigsaw puzzle, namely, that the speediest way to put this old world together again is to put man himself together as a Divine Creator intended him to be.

There Is Another
The Border Cities Star says: "Every man on the street," City Solicitor Bruce J. S. Macdonald tells the Lions Club, "thinks he could step into public office and handle the job better than the man who is in. It is the only business I know where that attitude exists." Ah, but there is another one, Mr. Macdonald. It is the newspaper business.

Seed Oats Are Scarce

Drouth And Early Frost Has Menaced The Viable Supply

F. W. Townley-Smith, of Lashburn, national vice-president of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, was re-elected president of the Saskatchewan branch of the association at the annual convention held at the University of Saskatchewan as growers learned that combined effects of drouth and early frost had seriously menaced the viable supply of seed oats. So severe was the harm done to crops last summer that ordinary seed might carry as many as 40 wild oats to the pound and the association discussed the lowering of germination percentage required in registered seed.

Unless some reduction was allowed in the germination percentage required for registered oats, much of this high-grade seed might fail to make the grade and the pure seed touched by the frost fall into the common class, it was pointed out. Authorities have suggested lowering the required germination to 80 per cent. for No. 1, 75 per cent. for No. 2, and 65 per cent. for No. 3, the same percentages as for commercial seed. The matter was left to the C.S.G.A. executive.

Infant Prodigy

Unusual Physical Feats Performed By Fifteen-Month-Old Child

A 15-month-old girl climbed seven-foot inclines, dropped unaided from 4½-foot heights and roller skated, before an audience of psychologists and doctors in New York.

Her twin sister, Margie, unable to perform any of these feats, was present as a laboratory exhibit of the untrained child.

Florie, the agile child, and her identical twin have put in an eight-hour, five-day week since birth at the normal child development clinic in the babies' hospital of the Columbia Presbyterian medical center, developing for scientists the latest theories of child training.

Dr. Myrtle B. McGraw, who has had the twins in daily charge, said her studies indicate some of the advice handed out to parents has been "bunk," specifically the idea of un-disciplined freedom for children and the warning never to say "don't," said Dr. McGraw.

National Fund To Combat Cancer

25th Anniversary Of The Accession Of The King To The Throne To Be Commemorated

Canada will commemorate the 25th anniversary of the accession of the king to the throne in May by the establishment of a national fund to assist in combating cancer.

Following statement announcing the fund was made public:

"His Majesty The King, in response to a request from His Excellency the Governor-General, has graciously consented to the inauguration of a national fund to commemorate the 25th anniversary of His Majesty's accession to the throne. It is understood that this fund will be devoted to the campaign against cancer in Canada, and that, by special permission of His Majesty, it will be named 'The King George V. Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund for Canada.'"

INFANTS' COLDS

Relieved

Young children easily catch cold. So Mrs. Russell Ward, of Bismarck, Ont., wisely says: "If I notice that there is any sign of a cold I give Baby's Own Tablets and find that they are a great help. Thousands of mothers do the same, not only for colds but for fretfulness, indigestion, constipation, teething troubles, colic, upset stomach and so on. Baby's Own Tablets are safe and sure in relieving children's common ailments. Price 25c."

Canadian Boy Scouts Active

Eighty Thousand Children Supplied With Christmas Toys

Eighty thousand children were supplied with Christmas toys through a chain of 150 toy shops operated across Canada from coast to coast by Canadian Boy Scouts. Since their inception eleven years ago Canadian Boy Scout toy shops have collected, repaired, repainted and distributed nearly two million toys to over half-a-million Canadian children. In many centres scarcity of old toys this year caused the Scouts to try their hand at making new ones, and wholesale quantities of new wagons, trucks, tractors, racers, doll bedroom sets and other toys to delight the childish heart were added to Santa's pack.

Thousands of family parcels of toys were sent to settlers rehabilitated in Ontario and Quebec by government and municipal back-to-the-land schemes, and to new homesteaders in Northern Saskatchewan. Heavy bulk shipments of toys were made by eastern Scout toy shops to assist their brother Scouts in the West to carry on the good work. In addition, Scouts in the East distributed thousands of playthings among the children of their own districts who might otherwise have been overlooked.

Toys were not the only item for Scout groups to turn at Christmas. In several centres, mostly in the eastern provinces, the boys conducted "relief barrel" campaigns. Large barrels were placed in grocery stores with signs inviting customers to purchase an extra article and place it in the barrel for distribution to the needy at Christmas. Thousands of hampers of food were provided in this manner. In one centre Boy Scouts sold apples on the streets and with the proceeds bought hampers for needy families. In another they sponsored a theatre matinee for children to which the price of admission was one article of canned food, and the receipts were used for Christmas distribution.

Killed Mountain Lion

Alberta Man Had Narrow Escape When Beast Charged

What is presumed to be a mountain lion was killed the other day by Napoleon Whitford near McEwan, 20 miles north of Ashcroft, Alta. The animal has short hair and of a light reddish brown color. The body measures close to five feet in length with a tail about two and a half feet long. The skin when stretched measured eight feet from tip to tip.

The animal was killed with a .22 calibre rifle, five shots being fired before the lion was stopped. The first four shots merely glanced off the beast's head, partly stunning it. It had turned on Mr. Whitford and was charging down on him when it was dropped by a bullet in a vital spot just behind the ear.

A three-year-old steer which was killed in the vicinity the previous night is believed to have been slaughtered by the lion. Tracks of four other animals, similar to the ones made by this one, have been seen in the same locality.

According to the oldest Indian in the district, a mountain lion has never before been known to visit this part of the country.

Married Men Live Longer

Death Rate Shown To Be Much Lower Among The Bachelors

'Tis the married man—not the bachelor—who lives longest. Not only lives longest, but is less likely to do his living in the poor house.

Professor Edwin S. Burdell, of the department of economics and social science at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is author of those observations—those and a few more.

For instance, Professor Burdell tells us fewer married men commit crimes and fewer go insane.

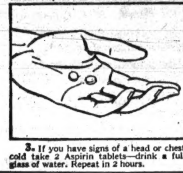

The death rate, he says, is much lower among married men than unmarried, and the insurance risk is less for the married than the single.

"Marriage is the best insurance in the world—insurance against crime, insanity, poverty, and premature death. The bachelor hasn't the social responsibility of the married man. As a rule, he is answerable only to himself. Therefore, when he is tempted to commit crime there is not the deterrent of thought of consequences."

NOW SORE THROAT EASED IN LESS THAN 3 MINUTES!

Ravenous, Irritation Go at Once
Note Directions for
New Instant Treatment

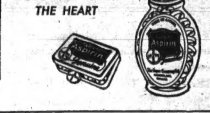

Incredible as it may seem, doctors are now prescribing a way that relieves raw, painful sore throat in as little as 2 to 3 minutes!

All you do is crush and stir 3 Aspirin tablets in ¼ glass of water and gargle with it twice.

Aspirin tablets disintegrate so completely no irritating particles are left. Results are immediate. At once soreness is eased—discomfort allayed.

Everywhere throat specialists urge this fundamental treatment instead of less effective old-time "washes" and "antiseptics." Remember this. And when you buy, see that you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer on every Aspirin tablet. Aspirin is the trade mark of the Bayer Company, Limited.

DOES NOT HARM THE HEART

The Hero's Reward

Did Not Even Get Thanks For Brave Deed Made

Heroes are born not made. There was one of them on a street at Baltimore, Md., the other day. He was dawdling on the sidewalk when he saw some children in a parked motor car release the brake and the car started rolling down a hill, while their mother stood distractedly on the sidewalk.

In an instant he took in the situation and the frightful tragedy that might ensue. He rushed after the car, caught up, leaped in and put on the brake but before the car had gone careening upon the sidewalk. Medals have been awarded for less, but in this case a policeman rushed up and the hero had great difficulty sweeping arrest for reckless driving.

And when the distracted mother arrived, her only comment was: "Please when you put the car back where you got it from as quickly as possible? If the children's father discovers it's gone he will be simply furious!"—Brandon Sun.

New Fighting Machine

One Man Tank Developed For Machine Gunners

A new type of land fighting machine—that is in effect a mobile suit of armor—is being tried out by the British war office.

The machine is a steel box, seven feet long, two and a half feet wide, and about two feet high.

It would carry a machine gunner. It is designed for use in advance reconnoitering work in open warfare.

The machine would take the place of the infantryman who has to crawl on his chest seeking scraps of cover as he advances.

The new machine does not look like a tank, but would achieve most of the functions of a light tank without being so cumbersome.

The man who is honest with himself cannot help being that way with others.

MEASURES ARE ANNOUNCED IN THRONE SPEECH

Ottawa.—Social, economic and agricultural legislation advocated by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett in his series of pre-seasonal addresses, were promised in the speech from the throne read by the governor-general at the opening of parliament.

In addition the members were told they would be asked to consider policies designed to consolidate and expand the empire trade agreements, and increase world trade generally. The policy of the government, the speech stated, would be to work towards arms reduction and stabilized international economic relations.

Two new cabinet ministers, R. B. Hanson and Grote Stirling, took their seats on the treasury benches for the first time. Two former cabinet members, Hon. H. H. Stevens, who resigned some weeks ago, and Hon. Murray MacLaren, were shifted to front-row seats along the Conservative side of the chamber.

The following definite legislative measures were announced:

Unemployment and health insurance.

Better provision for old age pensions.

Extended facilities for long-term and intermediate credit.

Minimum wage law and a maximum working week.

To alter the incidents of taxation so that it will more directly conform to capacity to pay.

To safeguard the consumer and primary producer against unfair trading practices.

Regulation of concentrations in production and distribution.

Means to protect the public against exploitation.

Constitution of an economic council "to advise my ministers upon all economic questions which concern the national welfare."

First stage in reorganization of the government services.

To amend and consolidate the acts relating to patents and inventions.

Consideration was promised for penitentiary reform involving possible adoption of the "Borstal system" as used in England.

This would separate minor prisoners from more hardened criminals.

Continued co-operation would be given the prairie provinces in efforts to determine what steps may be taken against recurring drought conditions.

The reform measures to be submitted would be "part of a comprehensive plan designed to remedy the social and economic injustices now prevailing, and to ensure to all classes and to all parts of the country, a greater degree of equality in the distribution of the benefits of the capitalist system."

The opening of parliament was preceded by one of the worst blizzards of the season.

Winnipeg.—Creation of a permanent federal commission to study the drouth problem in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and direct corrective measures, was approved at the annual meeting of the Association of Manitoba Land Surveyors here.

It was suggested the entire area might be divided into zones suitable for grazing, cultivation, or eliminated from cultivation, according to the nature of the soil and available water supply.

Introduce New Members

Five New Members Presented At Opening Of Parliament

Ottawa.—To the accompaniment of cheers and handclapping five new members were introduced to the House of Commons at the opening of parliament. Four were Liberal and one Conservative. The Liberals were in jubilant mood and did most of the cheering.

All five were elected in by-elections since the last session of parliament. The Conservative was Thomas I. Church, former mayor of Toronto and former member, who succeeds the late Hon. E. B. Ryckman as member for Toronto East.

Two of the new Liberals, succeeded members of new Ontario Liberal government. W. H. Mills takes the place of Premier Mitchell Hepburn as member for Elgin West and H. R. McKinnon succeeds Hon. Peter Hennessy as member for Kenora-Rainy River.

W. F. Mulock, new Liberal member for North York, had the distinction of having his grandfather, Sir William Mulock, watch his introduction from a seat on the floor of the house.

The other new Liberal member was Colin Campbell, who succeeds the late Dr. William Spence as a member for Frontenac-Addington.

Bandits Captured

Running Gun Fight In Illinois Results In Loss Of Lives

La Salle, Ill.—A gallant sheriff, a bank cashier and a bank robber died and three men and a boy were wounded in a series of gun battles that raged through three counties.

Three pitched engagements with 60 participating took place along a 30-mile line as a quartette of gangsters sought to blast their way to freedom after they had been beaten back in an attempt to loot the Leonore (Ill.) State bank.

Charles Bundy, 44, the bank official, and Sheriff Glick, 42, of Marshall county, were killed by the gunmen's bullets. Melvina Lee committed suicide a moment before her confederates were captured by a sharp-shooter on a bloodstained farm near McNabb, Ill.

War On Timber Wolves

Edmonton Chamber Of Commerce Asks Government To Offer Bounty

Edmonton.—War was declared on timber wolves and cougars in Alberta by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, which will ask the provincial government to place a bounty on their heads.

Attention was drawn to the timber wolf crisis by the St. Paul Board of Trade which complained that deer in that district are being killed off by increasing numbers of wolves.

From the area west of Edmonton a report was received by the chamber that cougars were causing similar damage to big game.

Celebrates Birthday

Veteran Of Riel Rebellion 88 In Good Health

Thistletown, Ont.—Edward C. T. Doole, veteran of the Riel rebellion and one of the rebel's guards in Ontario, the latter's removal to Regina, has started on his 78th year of life, still in good health and of youthful appearance for his years. Doole celebrated his 77th birthday at his home here on Jan. 14. He came to Canada from Northern Ireland more than 60 years ago.

Deal With Hitch-Hikers

Lansing, Mich.—Upon the thumb and the thumb alike will the heavy hand of the law descend if the Michigan legislature acts favorably upon a bill introduced in the house to end the era of the hitch-hiker. The proposed act would make it a misdemeanor for one to stand at a roadside and solicit a ride and a misdemeanor for an automobile driver to pick up a hitch-hiker.

Gets Bank Appointment

Ottawa.—Appointment of K. A. Henderson, of Toronto, to be chief of the securities division of the Bank of Canada has been announced here. Mr. Henderson was born in Ontario 31 years ago and was educated at the Gale collegiate institute and at McGill University, Montreal.

Shark Is Stranded

Vancouver.—Ten feet six inches of live shark was found fighting for life on the shore of Stanley park in Coal harbor, where it had apparently been trapped by the ebbing tide. The giant fish, one of the shore-bound sharks, was almost dead when discovered by three men cutting wood on the beach.

France Is Anxious

Fear Saar Plebiscite Not Enough To Pacify Hitler

Paris.—A hope his victory in the Saar plebiscite would satisfy and pacify Adolf Hitler is widely held in France, but there is an undercurrent of anxiety lest he become more dangerous.

Officials were startled by the festive showing of the status quo adherents, but they took the outcome with the best grace possible, reminding the world that France maintained neutrality and the vote, after all, was purely an affair between Hitler's friends and his foes.

Low Interest Rates

Ontario Government Seeks Lowest Rates In Province's History

Toronto.—Sale by the Ontario government of treasury notes at the lowest rate in the province's history was announced by Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn. The premier said a $20,000,000 issue has been disposed of at an interest rate of 2.25 per cent.

The notes are reported to be for a two-year term, and will take care of the six per cent. issue of some $5,000,000 which matures on Feb. 1, and will be used also to refund short term indebtedness and for certain capital expenditures.

Would Amend Company Laws

Former Minister Of Trade And Commerce Urges Action

Montreal.—A drastic amendment of company laws and practices, with the establishment of a Dominion commission of industry and commerce to administer all laws relating to these matters, was urged before the Canadian Club here by Hon. H. H. Stevens, former minister of trade and commerce and former chairman of the House of Commons committee investigating mass buying and price spreads.

LEAGUE LIFTS ARMS EMBARGO AGAINST BOLIVIA

Geneva.—For the first time in its history the League of Nations took punitive action against a war-making member.

Because Paraguay has failed to accept the league's plan for peace in the Chaco, the league's Chaco advisory committee voted to reinforce the arms embargo against Paraguay and lift the embargo against Bolivia, which has accepted the plan.

Bolivia henceforth will be free to buy, and nations adhering to the league's embargo will be free to sell, armaments and munitions.

An unprecedented step, it creates delicate problems for the United States, inasmuch as the American congress, in authorizing the embargo, stipulated that it should be operated against both the warring nations.

Paraguay is given a further chance to accept the peace plan, and the resolution specifies that Feb. 24 is the date of expiration of the three months Paraguay has to decide finally concerning the detailed plan for ending the war.

VICEBOY BUYS NEW PLANE

LORD WILLINGTON

So satisfactory have been the journeys made by air to various parts of India in the past two years by the Viceroy of India that Lord Willington has purchased a large four-engined plane for regular use in travel about the sub-continent.

French Cabin Seaplane

Designed To Carry 70 Passengers On Trans-Oceanic Service

Bordeaux, France.—A huge French cabin seaplane designed for trans-oceanic service and capable of carrying 70 passengers made its first trip into the air recently.

The 37-ton ship, christened the "Lieutenant de Valseaux Paris" and called here the largest aircraft in the world, sailed gracefully over lake Biscarosse in its trial flight. The crew numbered seven.

Trials trips to North and South America are planned soon after the preliminary tests here are completed.

The seaplane, propelled by six motors of 850 horsepower each, is 104 feet long, has a wingspread of 162 feet and stands 30 feet high.

Housed in its dunnagebin and stainless steel fuselage, arranged with two decks, are 12 de luxe cabins, as large as those on trans-Atlantic liners, each of which has two beds and a private bathroom. There are accommodation for 10 other first class, and 42 second class, passengers.

Fox Fur Farming

Canadian National Fox Breeding Association Meet At Saskatoon

Saskatoon.—Fox fur farming in 1934 was reviewed by 40 delegates representing every province in Canada at the 15th annual meeting of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association here—the first annual meeting in the history of the industry to be held in a city west of Toronto.

Technical changes in the constitution came up for discussion, with George Calbeck, of Summerside, P.E.I., president, in the chair. The last annual meeting was held in Quebec city.

Radio For Fire Chiefs

Winnipeg.—Equipping the automobiles of district fire chiefs with radio is proposed here by Fire Chief D. A. Bouden, who says much wasteful time would be saved by transmitting calls through the police shop wire equipment.

Farm Board Appeals

Board Of Review For Alberta Sitting At Edmonton

Edmonton.—Faced with a list of 36 appeals from farmers in this district, the board of review for Alberta, appointed under the federal Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, has begun its sittings here.

The board, composed of Mr. Justice Ewing, chairman, with S. H. McCusick, K.C., representing the creditors, and H. B. Macdonald, High River, for the debtors, will hear three cases daily for the next three weeks.

After the sittings here the board will leave for the north country and hear cases at Peace River and Grande Prairie. After three weeks in the north, the board will return to Edmonton, when announcement will be made of further sittings.

General reduction of two per cent. in the rate of interest was shown by the board's first batch of awards. In some cases, rates on mortgages were cut from eight to five per cent.

Favors World Court

President Roosevelt Asks Senate To Ratify American Adherence

Washington.—In the interests of "world peace," President Roosevelt asked the United States senate in a special message to ratify American adherence to the world court.

The brief presidential message also urged that ratification "be given in such form as not to defeat or to delay the objective of adherence."

This was interpreted in senatorial circles as representing opposition to any new reservations.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted that for years both Republicans and Democrats in party platforms had favored adherence.

"The sovereignty of the United States," he said, "will be in no way diminished or jeopardized by such action. At this period in international relationships, when every act is of moment to the future of world peace, the United States has an opportunity more to throw its weight into the scale in favor of peace."

Cheers For Brownlee

United Farm Women Of Alberta Applaud E. F. Brownlee

Calgary.—Mrs. Richard Price, of Stettler, was re-elected president of the United Farm Women of Alberta, at the annual convention here. It was her third term.

The women heard addresses by J. E. Brown, Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of public health; Hon. J. S. Grisdale, minister of agriculture, and Mrs. Zeila H. Spencer, Edmonton.

Rousing cheers were given by the 100 women delegates and many visitors when Mr. Brownlee, former premier, took the platform to speak. Mrs. Price, extending the thanks of the convention, said she hoped Mr. Brownlee would soon be back in his rightful post as "head of the Alberta government."

SAAR TERRITORY PASSES INTO THE HANDS OF NAZIS

Saarbrücken, Saar Basin Territory—Adolf Hitler's Saar occupation crumbled completely and the Saar, in effect, passed into Nazi hands.

The League of Nations government was still in nominal authority, but it was evident the league commissioners, bowing to the will of the people expressed in the plebiscite's 90 per cent. pro-German vote, meant to stand to one side.

As unconfirmed reports reached this capital that five persons had been killed and several wounded in post-plebiscite fighting, the demoralized anti-Nazi Common Front moved its headquarters across the border to French soil.

Despatches from Forbach, France, said several hundred Saar-refugees arrived on French soil. Four of them reported they had been fired upon as they started to turn back to the Saar. French authorities were anticipating many thousands of self-exiles, the despatches said.

Bluescoat police, controlled by Nazis, moved into the social welfare centre from which the anti-Nazi plebiscite campaign had been directed, swept out several hundred Hitler opponents, and occupied the building.

Berlin.—Appeals by Saar goods dealers to Germany further to prove the Nazis meant business when they promised Saarlanders they would be made to feel at home in the fatherland.

U. F. A. WANT A FEDERAL SYSTEM OF SOCIAL CREDIT

Calgary.—Recognising demands for social credit principles, the annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta asked the Alberta government to engage Major C. H. Douglas, English economist, as financial adviser with a view to establishing a federal system of social credit.

A start was made on drawing up a declaration of principles as a platform for the Alberta general elections, which must be held this year. Written into the principles were equalization of taxation, refunding capital debts of the province and municipalities, reduction in interest rates and of mortgages, and operation to effect nationalization of the Bank of Canada, a new monetary system under public control and a national system of short term and intermediate credits.

Identifying Douglas as the "formalist authority upon the system of social credit," the convention recommended definite work which Major Douglas would undertake. Previously the convention had rejected by overwhelming vote a proposal to make the social credit plan sponsored by William Aberhart, Calgary school principal, a part of its program.

As "consulting engineer in the matter of social reform," Major Douglas, if the Alberta government follows the recommendation, will be brought to Alberta.

1. Advise the government to what extent his proposals are practical within provincial jurisdiction, and to state what helpful initiatory steps might be established within the province.

2. Prepare plans for consideration with a view to the possibility of their introduction in the federal parliament.

On the advice of Robert Gardner, M.P. for Acadia and president, the social credit resolution was not incorporated in the declaration of principles but passed as a separate resolution. It was introduced by William Irvine, M.P. for Wetaakwin. "This will be the issue of the next Alberta election," declared Mr. Irvine.

The convention voted approval of the actions of Hon. H. H. Stevens, former federal cabinet member, in the mass buying and price spreads probe. It asked for a standard grade for manufactured products, bearing the stamp of the federal government. Removal of the duty on all oil or gas burning tractors for farm purposes was advocated.

Would Revise Plan

Alberta Member Advocates Super-annuation For All Over 55

Calgary.—George C. Coote, M.P. for Macleod, has urged superannuation of all persons over 55 years of age, guarantee of employment to persons under that age, stabilized farm prices at the 1926 level and a financial system controlled by the public.

Addressing the annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta, Mr. Coote declared farmers would be included in the superannuation plan, which would pay about $50 monthly. It would not be compulsory. Under the plan thousands of younger men would replace those getting pensions.
